

Worksheet Number Three Page Two

Descriptions

___ 1: I am a national flag known as a Union Jack I have been displayed since I was created in 1801 and I am still hanging around today. The display that is on my sides are the cross of Saint Andrew, the Cross of Saint George, and the Cross of Saint Patrick. Who Am I?

___ 2: I was created by Vice Admiral Emile Muselier just after a few days after he took his post of Chief of Naval and Air Forces and my colors and display make my people want to persevere as they did with Joan of Arc. Who Am I?

___ 3: I am a flag that strikes fear to those who are against me and my people. I was used to represent a party known as the NSDAP before 1935 when I became the national flag. Now I am a even popular enough that my men who go to battle wear armbands with my insignia and to keep their hopes up for the Third Reich. Who Am I?

___ 4: I am a national flag for a country that has been around for centuries that has held many great civilizations. I do not know why my colors are the colors that they are even my own people can not agree upon why. I flew from 1848-1946 and my political leader wants everyone to call him Cesar. Who Am I?

___ 5: I am a famous for my looks and when you recognize me you will know who I am. I have sixteen rays that go around my edges and was used mainly by my navy. I am the most recognizable symbol of the country I represent though I am not the national flag. That flag looks almost like me except for my rays. I am still in use today by my country's self defense Forces. Who Am I?

___ 6: I am a famous flag that has changed very little since I was first created, the only thing that has changed is that they added more of these each time someone joined our my country's ranks.. We are now but to fifty but during World War II was stood still at 48 until 1959 and 1960. Who Am I?

___ 7: I am a flag that represents the peasants with one symbol and the workers of my county with another symbol laid across the other. The reason they chose my color was to represent the blood that was spilt by workers the country over to gain our independence. We gained it in 1917, following the Bolshevik revolution.
